

GREAT CASTERTON COMMENT ON RUTLAND LOCAL PLAN

This comprehensive plan undoubtedly meets the test of soundness, covering as it does, all aspects of planning for the continual development of Rutland, one of the few really rural counties in England.

If this plan is approved and followed it will safeguard the character and attractiveness of Rutland villages as well as further development to meet the needs of residents and their employment.

One particular aspect which affects Great Casterton is Policy H4 - North Stamford, embracing Quarry Farm. Although not mentioned in the document this development has the potential to affect this village as well as Little Casterton and Ryhall. The plan rightly emphasises the need for a proper link road between Ryhall road and the A1/A606 junction. If this road was not provided the impact of Great Casterton would be unpleasant.
